PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Highly motivated full stack developer driven by a passion for learning, dedication to producing excellent work, and a knack for taking initiative. With experience in Ruby on Rails and Javascript, software development has proven to be the perfect fit for the creativity and analytical dexterity that I cultivated throughout my experiences in media and the legal industry. In addition to my technical agility, I offer project management expertise and the ability to effectively communicate and collaborate with personnel across organizational levels, all of which have made me a valuable team member in a variety of contexts.

SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT EXPERIENCE

CapStack Analytics LLC, New York, NY
Software Engineer, March 2018 – Present
- First software engineer to join early stage SaaS startup building a financial analysis and team collaboration tool for investment banks
- Influenced tech stack composition by researching databases and server-side frameworks
- Integrated Action Mailer to automate emails for server-side account activation and password resets
- Built client features including forms with asynchronous field validations using React and Redux Form
